Australian Government Disaster Recovery Payment (AGDRP) QLD Flooding – December 2010/January 2011

Background

The Australian Government Disaster Recovery Payment (AGDRP) has been activated to assist people who have been adversely affected by the flooding that began in November affecting Queensland. If you or someone you know has been affected by this disaster you should speak to Centrelink as soon as possible to arrange assistance.

What is the AGDRP?

The Australian Government Disaster Recovery Payment, or the AGDRP, is a one-off payment for people who have been adversely affected by a disaster.

If you are eligible you will receive:

- $1000 per adult
- $400 for each child (under 16 years of age).

Who is eligible to receive the payment?

You (your partner and/or children) may be eligible to receive the AGDRP if you:

- are an Australian resident, and
- are 16 years or older or are receiving a social security payment, and
- have not already received an Australian Government Disaster Recovery Payment for the disaster, and
- have experienced one or more of the following:
 - you have been seriously injured, or
 - you are the immediate family member of an Australian killed as a direct result of the disaster, or
 - your home has been destroyed, or
 - your home has been destroyed or has sustained major damage, or

- you have been stranded in your home, or unable to gain access to your home, for a period of 24 hours or more, or
- your home was without electricity, water, gas, sewage services or another essential service (a utility failure) for at least 48 hours and the utility failure was caused by damage to public or private infrastructure, or
- you are the principal carer of a dependent child who has experienced any of the above.

Evidence of damage to your home may be required before Centrelink can approve your claim.

How is the payment made?

Payments will be made to a bank, building society or credit union account held in your name. A joint account is acceptable. If you do not have an account or are unable to access your account, please talk to Centrelink about alternative arrangements.

What information do I need to provide Centrelink?

Before you can get paid, you (and your partner) may need to show Centrelink proof of identity (e.g. driver's licence or passport) and evidence you are eligible for this payment (e.g. hospital admission, evidence of damage to principal home). Even if you cannot provide this immediately, you should lodge a claim without delay and provide the supporting documents to Centrelink within 14 days.

How do I claim?

You can:

- call Centrelink on 180 22 66
- print a claim on line at www.centrelink.gov.au then complete, sign and take your claim form to your nearest Centrelink Customer Service Centre or Centrelink Agent, or post to:
